Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and conform to practices within the banking industry.

Nature of Operations

AliKat Investments, Inc. (Company) is a bank holding company and through its banking subsidiary, NorthSide Community Bank, offers a broad range of financial services to customers in the Illinois counties of Cook and Lake. The financial services offered are principally orientated toward individual consumers and small and medium sized businesses and are typical of those offered by a commercial bank.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, NorthSide Community Bank (Bank). Significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The determination of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses is based on estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant changes in the economic environment and market conditions. In connection with the determination of the estimated losses on loans, management obtains independent appraisals for significant collateral.

The Bank's loans are generally secured by specific items of collateral including real property, consumer assets and business assets. Although the Bank has a diversified loan portfolio, a substantial portion of its debtors' ability to honor their contracts is dependent on local economic conditions.

While management uses available information to recognize losses on loans, further reductions in the carrying amounts of loans may be necessary based on changes in local economic conditions. In addition, regulatory agencies, as an integral part of their examination process, periodically review the estimated losses on loans. Such agencies may require the Bank to recognize additional losses based on their judgments about information available to them at the time of their examination. Because of these factors, it is reasonably possible that the estimated losses on loans may change materially in the near term. However, the amount of the change that is reasonably possible cannot be estimated.

Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Comprehensive income (loss) is defined as the change in equity of a business enterprise from transactions and other events from non-shareholder sources. Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income (loss) and other changes in shareholders' equity, which bypass the statement of income. For all periods presented, other comprehensive income (loss) includes only one component, the change in unrealized gains (losses) on available-for-sale investment securities.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include interest bearing and non-interest bearing amounts due from depository banks and federal funds sold with original maturities of three months or less.

Interest-bearing Deposits in Other Banks

Interest-bearing deposits in other banks mature within one year and are carried at cost.

Investment Securities

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that debt and equity securities be classified into one of three reporting categories and accounted for as follows: (1) held-to-maturity securities reported at amortized cost, (2) trading securities reported at fair value with unrealized gains and losses included in earnings, and (3) available-for-sale securities reported at fair value with unrealized gains and losses net of related taxes reported as an increase or decrease in other comprehensive income.

Securities held-to-maturity are securities that the Company has the intent and ability to hold to maturity and are carried at cost adjusted for amortization of premium and accretion of discount, generally computed using the interest method.

The amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts are recognized as adjustments to interest income in a manner that approximates the level-yield method. Realized gains and losses on securities sold are computed based on the adjusted cost of the specific securities sold.

Securities available-for-sale are securities that are intended to be held for indefinite periods of time but which may not be held to maturity. These securities may be used as a part of the Company's asset/liability management strategy and may be sold in response to changes in interest rates, deterioration of issuer's creditworthiness, or due to a desire to increase capital or liquidity.

Realized securities gains and losses are determined on a specific identification basis and are reported in the consolidated statement of operations as securities gains and losses.

Loans

The Company's loan portfolio includes commercial, commercial real estate, residential real estate, installment and other segments. Commercial real estate includes classes for construction, multi-family, industrial/manufacturing, retail and restaurant, and other commercial real estate loans. Residential real estate includes classes for 1-4 family and home equity lines of credit.

Loans that management has the intent and ability to hold for the foreseeable future or until maturity or pay-off generally are reported at their outstanding unpaid principal balances adjusted for charge-offs, the allowance for loan losses, and any deferred fees or costs on originated loans. Interest income is accrued on the unpaid principal balance. Loan origination fees, net of certain direct origination costs, are deferred and recognized as an adjustment of the related loan yield using the interest method.

The accrual of interest on all loans is discontinued at the time the loan is 90 days past due unless the credit is well-secured and in process of collection. Past due status is based on contractual terms of the loan. In all cases, loans are placed on nonaccrual if collection of principal or interest is considered doubtful. All interest accrued but not collected for loans that are placed on nonaccrual is reversed against interest income. The interest on these loans is accounted for on the cash-basis or cost-recovery method, until qualifying for return to accrual. Loans are returned to accrual status when all the principal and interest amounts contractually due are brought current and future payments are reasonably assured.

Allowance for Loan Losses

The allowance for loan losses is established as losses are estimated to have occurred through a provision for loan losses charged to earnings. Loan losses are charged against the allowance when management believes the uncollectibility of a loan balance is confirmed. Subsequent recoveries, if any, are credited to the allowance.

The allowance for loan losses is evaluated on a regular basis by management. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available. The allowance consists of general, allocated and unallocated components, as further described below.

General Component

The general component of the allowance for loan losses is based on historical loss experience adjusted for qualitative factors stratified by the following loan segments: commercial, commercial real estate, residential real estate, installment and other. Management uses a rolling average of historical losses based on a time frame appropriate to capture relevant loss data for each loan segment. This historical loss factor is adjusted for the following qualitative factors: levels/trends in delinquencies; trends in volume and terms of loans; effects of changes in risk selection and underwriting standards and other changes in lending policies, procedures and practices; experience/ability/depth of lending management and staff; and national and local economic trends and conditions.

AliKat Investments, Inc. and Subsidiary
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

The qualitative factors are determined based on the various risk characteristics of each loan segment. Risk characteristics relevant to each portfolio segment are as follows:

Commercial

Loans in this segment are made to businesses and are generally secured by assets of the business. Repayment is expected from the cash flows of the business. A weakened economy, and resultant decreased consumer spending, will have an effect on the credit quality in this segment.

Commercial Real Estate

Loans in this segment are primarily income-producing properties throughout the Chicago area. The underlying cash flows generated by the properties are adversely impacted by a downturn in the economy as evidenced by increased vacancy rates, which in turn, will have an effect on the credit quality in this segment. Management obtains rent rolls annually and continually monitors the cash flows of these loans. Loans in this segment also include speculative real estate development loans for which payment is derived from sale of the property.

Residential Real Estate

Loans in this segment primarily include owner-occupied 1-4 family residences secured by 1st liens. The Company generally does not originate loans with a loan-to-value ratio greater than 75 percent and does not generally grant loans that would be classified as subprime upon origination. All loans in this segment are collateralized by residential real estate and repayment is dependent on the credit quality of the individual borrower or borrowers. The overall health of the economy, including unemployment rates and housing prices, will have an effect on the credit quality in this segment.

Installment

Loans in this segment are generally to individuals and are supported by non-real estate collateral. The repayment is dependent on the credit quality of the individual borrower.

Other

Loans in this segment consist of overdrafts and term federal funds sold.

Allocated Component

The allocated component relates to loans that are classified as impaired. Based on internal credit ratings, loans are evaluated for impairment on a loan-by-loan basis. Impairment is measured by either the present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective interest rate or the fair value of the collateral if the loan is collateral dependent. An allowance is established when the discounted cash flows (or collateral value) of the impaired loan is lower than the carrying value of that loan. Large groups of smaller balance homogeneous loans are collectively evaluated for impairment.

A loan is considered impaired when, based on current information and events, it is probable that the Company will be unable to collect the scheduled payments of principal or interest when due

AliKat Investments, Inc. and Subsidiary
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status, collateral value, and the probability of collecting scheduled principal and interest payments when due. Loans that experience insignificant payment delays and payment shortfalls generally are not classified as impaired. Management determines the significance of payment delays and payment shortfalls on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration all of the circumstances surrounding the loan and the borrower, including the length of the delay, the reasons for the delay, the borrower's prior payment record, and the amount of the shortfall in relation to the principal and interest owed.

The Company periodically may agree to modify the contractual terms of loans. When a loan is modified and a concession is made to a borrower experiencing financial difficulty, the modification is considered a troubled debt restructuring (TDR). All TDRs are classified as impaired.

Unallocated Component

An unallocated component is maintained to cover uncertainties that could affect management's estimate of probable losses. The unallocated component of the allowance reflects the margin of imprecision inherent in the underlying assumptions used in the methodologies for estimating allocated and general reserves in the portfolio.

Credit-Related Financial Instruments

In the ordinary course of business, the Bank has entered into commitments to extend credit, including commitments under lines of credit and standby letters of credit. Such instruments are recorded when they are funded.

Premises and Equipment

Premises and equipment are carried at cost net of accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method based principally on the estimated useful lives of the assets. Maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred while major additions and improvements are capitalized.

Other Real Estate Owned

Property acquired in satisfaction of debts or through foreclosure is valued at the lower of fair value or the recorded investment in the related loan. At foreclosure, if the fair value of the property acquired is less than the recorded investment in the related loan, a write down is recognized by a charge to the allowance for possible loan losses. The cost of carrying the assets subsequent to foreclosure and any decrease in the market value occurring after that date are treated as charges to operations in the year incurred. When the property is not in a condition for use or sale at the time of foreclosure, completion and holding costs necessary to bring it into such a state are capitalized, provided that such costs do not in aggregate exceed the lower of fair value or the recorded investment in the related loan. Revenue and expenses from operations and changes in the valuation allowance are included in net expenses from foreclosed assets.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Income Taxes

The Company files consolidated income tax returns with its subsidiary, NorthSide Community Bank. Each member of the consolidated group provides for income taxes on a separate return basis and is charged or credited by the Company with the tax or tax benefit shown in a separate return. The provision for income taxes is based on amounts reported in the statement of operations adjusted for differences that do not enter into the computation of taxes payable under applicable laws. The Company recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of the Company's assets and liabilities. Measurement of deferred tax assets and liabilities is based upon the provision of enacted tax laws and the effects of future changes in tax laws or rates. The Company recognizes the financial statement impact of a tax position when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination. The Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for the years before the 2012 tax year.

Management evaluates securities for other-than-temporary impairment as economic or market concerns warrant such evaluation. Consideration is given to the length of time and extent to which fair value has been less than cost, the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, and the intent and ability of the Bank to retain its investment in the issuer for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovering in fair value.

The Company uses a graded loan rating system as a means of identifying potential problem loans.

Pass

Loans in these categories are considered “pass” rated loans with low to average risk.

Watch

Loans in this category are internally designated by management as “watch.” These loans are starting to show signs of potential weakness and are being closely monitored by management.

Substandard

Loans in this category are considered “substandard.” Generally, a loan is considered substandard if it is inadequately protected by the current net worth and paying capacity of the obligors and/or the collateral pledged. There is a distinct possibility that the Company will sustain some loss if the weakness is not corrected.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Doubtful

Loans in this category are considered “doubtful.” Loans classified as doubtful have all the weakness inherent in those classified substandard with the added characteristic that the weaknesses make collection or liquidation in full, on the basis of currently existing facts, highly questionable and improbable.

On an annual basis, or more often if needed, the Company formally reviews the ratings on all loans. Annually, the Company engages an independent third party to review a significant portion of the loan portfolio. Management uses the results of this review as part of its annual review process.

The following presents the loan balance based upon the Company’s loan rating system as of December 31, 2015 and 2014:

Note 11: Commitments, Contingent Liabilities and Credit Risk

Financial Instruments

The Bank is a party to financial instruments with off-balance-sheet risk in the normal course of business to meet the financial needs of its customers. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit and stand-by letters of credit. These instruments involve elements of credit risk in excess of the amounts recognized in the consolidated balance sheets. The contract amounts of these instruments reflect the extent of involvement the Bank has in particular classes of financial instruments. The Bank did not hold any off-balance-sheet-derivative financial instruments, such as futures, forwards, swaps or option contracts, at December 31, 2015 and 2014.

The Bank's exposure to credit loss, in the event of non-performance by the other party to the financial instrument for commitments to extend credit, is represented by the contractual amount of those instruments. The Bank uses the same credit policies in making commitments and conditional obligations as it does for on-balance-sheet instruments.

AliKat Investments, Inc. and Subsidiary
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

At December 31, 2015 and 2014, financial instruments whose contract amounts represent credit risk were:

|                              | 2015   | 2014   |
|------------------------------|---------------|---------------|
| Commitments to extend credit | $ 27,422,000 | $ 20,087,000 |
| Letters of credit            | 619,000       | 267,000       |

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in the contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require payment of a fee. Since many of the commitments are expected to expire without being drawn upon, the total commitment amounts do not necessarily represent future cash requirements. The Company evaluates each customer's creditworthiness on a case-by-case basis. The amount of collateral obtained is based on management's credit evaluation of the customer.

Unfunded commitments under commercial lines of credit, revolving credit lines and overdraft protection agreements are commitments for possible future extensions of credit to existing customers. The lines of credit can be uncollateralized and usually do not contain a specified maturity date and ultimately may not be drawn upon to the extent to which the Company is committed.

Standby letters of credit are conditional commitments issued by the Company to guarantee the performance of a customer to a third party. Those letters of credit are primarily issued to support public and private borrowing arrangements and generally have terms of more than one year. The credit risk involved in issuing letters of credit is essentially the same as that involved in extending loan facilities to customers. The Company holds collateral supporting those commitments if deemed necessary. At December 31, 2015 and 2014, no amounts have been recorded as liabilities for the Company's potential obligations under these guarantees.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Bank maintains deposits in the normal course of business with certain correspondent financial institutions in excess of federally insured limits. These financial institutions are deemed by management to be financially sound.

The Bank makes commercial, consumer and residential loans to their customers throughout northern Illinois. The majority of loans made are secured by specific collateral. Collateral held varies but may include deposits held in financial institutions; U.S. treasury securities; other marketable securities; income-producing commercial properties; accounts receivable; and property, plant and equipment.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Interest Rate Risk

The Bank assumes interest rate risk (the risk that general interest rate levels will change) as a result of its normal operations. As a result, fair values of the Bank's financial instruments will change when interest rate levels change, and that change may be either favorable or unfavorable to the Bank. Management attempts to match maturities of assets and liabilities to the extent believed necessary to minimize interest rate risk. However, borrowers with fixed rate obligations are less likely to prepay in a rising rate environment and more likely to prepay in a falling rate environment. Conversely, depositors who are receiving fixed rates are more likely to withdraw funds before maturity in a rising rate environment and less likely to do so in a falling rate environment. Management monitors rates and maturities of assets and liabilities and attempts to minimize interest rate risk by adjusting terms of new loans and deposits and by investing in securities with terms that mitigate the Bank's overall interest rate risk.

Litigation

Due to the nature of their business activities, the Company and the Bank are at times subject to legal action which arises in the normal course of business. In the opinion of management, the ultimate resolution of these matters is not expected to have a material effect on the financial position or results of operations of the Company or the Bank.

Cash Requirements

The Bank is required to maintain certain average cash reserve balances with the Federal Reserve Bank. The required balance at December 31, 2015 and 2014, was $570,000 and $356,000, respectively.

Note 12: Restrictions on Dividends

The Company's primary source of cash is dividends received from the Bank. By regulation the Bank is restricted on the amount of dividends it can pay without prior regulatory approval. As a practical matter, dividends distributed by the Bank are restricted to amounts that allow the Bank to maintain prudent capital levels.

Note 13: Regulatory Capital Requirements

The Bank is subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by federal banking agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory and possible additional discretionary actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Bank's financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of the Bank's assets, liabilities, and certain off-balance-sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. The Bank's capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators about components, risk weightings, and other factors.

December 31, 2015 and 2014

Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Bank to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the table below) of total capital and Tier 1 capital (as defined in the regulations) to risk-weighted assets (as defined), and Tier 1 capital (as defined) to adjusted total assets (as defined). Management believes, as of December 31, 2015, that the Bank meets all capital adequacy requirements to which it is subject.

As of December 31, 2015, the most recent notification from the Federal Reserve Bank categorized the Bank as well capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To be categorized as well capitalized, the Bank must maintain total risk-based, Tier 1 risk-based, and Tier 1 leverage ratios as set forth in the table. There are no conditions or events since that notification that management believes have changed the Bank's category.

The Company's capital amounts and ratios as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 are presented in the following table.

|   | Actual        |       | For Capital Adequacy Purposes |       | To Be Well Capitalized Under Prompt Corrective Action Provisions |       |

Note 14: Disclosures About Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument for which it is practical to estimate that value:

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The carrying amounts of cash and short-term instruments approximate fair values.

Interest-Bearing Deposits in Banks

The carrying amounts of interest-bearing deposits maturing within ninety days approximate their fair values. Fair values of other interest-bearing deposits are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses based on current rates for similar types of deposits.

Investment Securities

For investment securities, fair value equals quoted market price if available. If a quoted market price is not available, fair value is estimated using quoted market prices for similar securities. The carrying value of Federal Home Loan Bank and Federal Reserve Bank stock approximates fair value based on the redemption provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank and Federal Reserve Bank.

Loans

The fair value of loans is estimated by discounting the future cash flows using the current rates at which similar loans would be made to borrowers with similar credit ratings and for the same remaining maturities.

Deposits

The fair value of demand deposits, savings accounts, NOW and money market accounts is the amount payable on demand at the reporting date. The fair value of fixed-maturity certificates of deposit is estimated using the rates currently offered for deposits of similar remaining maturities.

Short-Term and Long-Term Borrowings

The fair value of short-term and long-term borrowings is estimated by discounting the future cash flows using the current interest rates at which similar borrowings could be made for the same maturities.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Commitments to Extend Credit and Letters of Credit

The fair value of commitments is estimated using the fees currently charged to enter into similar agreements, taking into account the remaining terms of the agreements and the present creditworthiness of the counterparties. For fixed-rate loan commitments, fair value also considers the difference between current levels of interest rates and the committed rates. The fair value of letters of credit is based on fees currently charged for similar agreements or on the estimated cost to terminate them or otherwise settle the obligations with the counterparties at the reporting date.

The estimated carrying amount and fair value of the Company's financial instruments at December 31, 2015 is as follows:

Changes in the methods and assumptions used to estimate the fair values of each class of financial instruments above may have a material effect on those estimated values. Also, it should be noted that reasonable comparability between financial institutions may not be likely due to the various valuation techniques permitted and numerous estimates which must be made given the absence of secondary markets for many of the financial instruments. The lack of uniform methods also introduces a greater degree of subjectivity to these estimated fair values.

Note 15: Fair Value Measurements

Generally accepted accounting principles provide a uniform framework for the definition, measurement and disclosure of fair value measurements. Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. Such accounting guidance also establishes a fair value hierarchy which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 Quoted market prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the entity has the ability to access as of the measurement date.

AliKat Investments, Inc. and Subsidiary

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

December 31, 2015 and 2014

Level 2 Significant other observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices in markets that are not active, and other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3 Significant unobservable inputs that reflect an entity's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability.

The asset's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2015 and 2014.

Securities Available-for-Sale

Investment securities available-for-sale are recorded at fair value on a recurring basis. Fair value measurement is based upon quoted prices for similar assets, if available. If quoted prices are not available, fair values are measured using matrix pricing models, or other model-based valuation techniques requiring observable inputs other than quoted prices such as yield curves, prepayment speeds, and default rates. Recurring Level 1 securities would include U.S. Treasury securities that are traded by dealers or brokers in active over-the-counter markets and mutual funds. Recurring Level 2 securities include U.S. government agency securities, U.S. government sponsored agency securities, mortgage-backed securities, collateralized mortgage obligations and municipal bonds. Where Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available, securities are classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy. Changes in fair market value are recorded in other comprehensive income as the securities are available for sale.

Impaired Loans

The Company does not record loans at fair value on a recurring basis. However, on occasion, a loan is considered impaired and an allowance for loan loss is established. A loan is considered impaired when it is probable that all of the principal and interest due under the original terms of the loan may not be collected. Once a loan is identified as impaired, management will measure impairment. The fair value of loans is generally based on recent real estate appraisals. These appraisals may utilize a single valuation approach or a combination of approaches including comparable sales and the income approach. Adjustments are routinely made in the appraisal process by the independent appraisers to adjust for differences between the comparable sales and income data available. Such adjustments are usually significant and typically result in a Level 3 classification of the inputs for determining fair value. Non-real estate collateral may be valued using an appraisal, net book value per the borrower's financial statements, or aging reports, adjusted or discounted based on management's historical knowledge, changes in market conditions from the time of the valuation, and management's expertise and knowledge of the client and client's business, resulting in a Level 3 fair value classification. Impaired loans are evaluated on a quarterly basis for additional impairment and adjusted accordingly. Impaired loans that are valued based on the present value of future cash flows are not considered in the fair value hierarchy.

December 31, 2015 and 2014

Other Real Estate Owned and Repossessed Assets

The Company does not record other real estate owned and repossessed assets at fair value on a recurring basis. Assets acquired through, or in lieu of, loan foreclosure are held for sale and are initially recorded at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell. Fair value is commonly based on recent real estate appraisals which are typically updated no less frequently than annually. These appraisals may utilize a single valuation approach or a combination of approaches including comparable sales and the income approach. Adjustments are routinely made in the appraisal process by the independent appraisers to adjust for differences between the comparable sales and income data available. Such adjustments are usually significant and typically result in a Level 3 classification of the inputs for determining fair value. Repossessed assets may be valued using an appraisal, auction values, management knowledge of assets or other sales comparison approach, resulting in Level 3 fair value classification. Other real estate owned properties and repossessed assets are evaluated on a quarterly basis for additional impairment and adjusted accordingly.

Fair values of assets and liabilities measured on a recurring basis at December 31, 2015 and 2014, are as follows:

The following represents impairment charges recognized during the period.

Impaired loans that were considered collateral dependent had a carrying amount of $5,579,084 and $9,830,314, with no valuation allowance as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. Collateral dependent impaired loans were adjusted to the fair value, less costs to sell, of the underlying collateral securing these loans resulting in certain losses. The losses are not recorded directly as an adjustment to current earnings, but rather as a component in determining the allowance for loan losses.

Other real estate owned and repossessed assets, which are measured using the fair value of the collateral, had a carrying amount of $5,022,397 and $6,770,720 as of December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively. Other real estate owned and repossessed assets were adjusted to the fair value, less costs to sell, resulting in losses recorded directly as an adjustment to current earnings.

The valuation technique and significant unobservable inputs used to measure non-recurring Level 3 fair value measurements at December 31, 2015, were as follows:

|                         | Fair Value   | Valuation Methodology     | Significant Unobservable Input           | Range of Input (Weighted Average) |
